DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/30/07 has been entered.

Claims 1, 3, 5-9, 13-15 and 17-20 are under examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 5-9, 13-15 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pickart (U.S. Patent No. 5,382,431) in view of Pickart (U.S. Patent No. 5,888,522).

The instant invention is drawn to a method of remodeling blemished skin via topically applying an effective amount of a ionic metal-peptide (peptone) hydrolyzate (digest).

Pickart ('431) discloses an ionic-metal peptone digest for accelerating wound healing via topically applying an effective amount of an ionic metal-peptone (peptide) digest (hydrolyzate).

See, for example, claims 1-7. This reads on instant claims 1, 3, 5-9, 13-15 and 17-20.

Pickart ('522) discloses a method of preparing an ionic-metal peptone digest. See, for example, claims 1 and 3-7.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to prepare the ionic metal-peptone digest used in the US '431 claims via the preparation methods beneficially disclosed in US '522 (see entire document including claims). The adjustment of particular conventional working conditions (e.g., digesting the peptide via one of various commonly employed, art-recognized techniques- such as those instantly claimed), is deemed merely a matter of judicious selection and routine optimization which is well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

Thus the claims are considered to be obvious variations (by claim terminology) of using the same product- and not patentably distinct. In view of the forgoing, the current invention is an obvious variation of the invention claimed in U.S. Patent No. 5,382,431 in view of U.S. Patent No.5,888,522.

Conclusion

All claims are rejected.
